This information resource suggests ideas for how to boost your visibility on the web. Below are some tips about things you can do yourself for free. These ideas can be used by individuals, artists, organisations, services etc.

As well as utilising some of these tips, remember that personal recommendations are the best marketing strategy and should be included in your marketing plan. People are more likely to use and be loyal to a person/organisation when they receive a personal recommendation from someone they know and respect. The same rule applies to your websites. Boosting your visibility on the web is important because it is essential that someone who receives a recommendation of your services can find you easily.

Note: It can take between 2 days to a month to come up on Google. These tips will help you to come up quicker as well as get you further up the list.

1 | Keywords

Keywords are used to boost the web user's ability to search for your site. Imagine what people are likely to type into a search engine when looking for you and make these your keywords. Keyword tools: to come up with related and derivative keyword terms which are popular with web users and search engines, check out: www.Adwords.Google.com.

2 | Understand how people use search engines

Web users will use search engines in three ways:

To find a specific site

This is when a search engine user already knows the name of the person/organisation they want and searches for the name in the search engine. It is important to have a solid marketing strategy to connect with these web users. These users will most likely search for your site if they have been recommended your service or have enjoyed your service in the past.

To gain information

Information/research is the most common

7 | Google Analytics
8 | Register with search engines
9 | Instant Preview

use for search engines, so it pays to be generous with information. The more free information you share on your site, the more likely people who are searching for information will stumble upon your website.

To make an online transaction

People often use search engines to buy something online. If you are selling an online service it is important to be clear about what you sell in your keywords.

3 | Domain names

The best way to boost your height in search engine lists is to have a url that is exactly what someone would search for in a search engine. For example, the key words I believe someone would use to find me would be "Karen Batten" so I have simply created a keyword url which is www.karenbatten.com.au

Alternatively you may have a project name that you would prefer to use as your website address. Your project name would be your main url which would appear on stationery and be easy to remember. You can then create a keyword url to attract search engine users and then use a URL forwarding service to link your keyword url to your main url.

Below are some suggests of places to look -
Domain purchase: you can buy your url online. Hosting: check your host provides free url linking. Preferred provider www.bock.com.au does.

4 | Link Directories

Many directory sites are free and are a great way to list your business and the services you provide. Remember to provide your key words as they are used by search engines to move you higher up their lists. Check that these directories are free or be aware of the pricing.

Type into Google:

- Free business link directories
- Free link directories 'your local area'
- 'Your profession' free link directory

5 | Google Places

You can be added to the google maps business list for free.

Google.com/places and look under 'Places for Business'

6 | Site Linking

A great way for people to visit your website is to have a link to your site on other websites. Seek people/organisations which you have a relationship with and ask them to display a link to your website and offer the same for them in return. Again make sure you use your key words in the text you give them.

7 | Google Analytics

You can find out about where the visitors to your website come from and how they interact with your site for free. This can provide you with valuable information to improve your marketing plan. To do this, go to the following link and follow the directions.

Below is the link to add your url to the google search

www.google.com/addurl/

This will increase your chances of becoming higher on the list when someone searches your keywords into the search engine.

9 | Instant preview

The way your website is designed has just got more important. Google's new instant preview means web searches will see the design when they search in Google. Flash websites are currently not visible in instant preview yet. Flash website are also not viewable on iPhones.
